

MIRMAN SCHOOL

2010-2011 Annual Report

MISSION AND PHILOSOPHY

Mirman School is passionately committed to the education of highly gifted children.

We are dedicated to:

*academic excellence;
the social, emotional and physical development of the student;
depth, complexity and differentiation tailored to each student's needs and abilities;
and developing creatively productive and ethical world citizens.*

MESSAGE FROM THE HEADMASTER

Dear Mirman School Community,

This year's opening of school comes with added enthusiasm and promise for the future. We have the multiple commendations and the full six-year accreditation from last year's CAIS/WASC visiting accrediting committee and an inoculation of renewed commitment to our Founders' passion for educating highly gifted children to bolster our institutional pride and herald us into Mirman School's 49th year. To the school's credit, the accreditors commended us for our upgraded technology of 1:1 laptops and Promethean Boards in every classroom to further engage students and individualize student instruction. Our faculty was commended for its commitment to providing superb academic programs throughout the school, distinctive elective programs in the Upper School, and uniquely conceptualized opportunities for students to pursue interests and passions on LEAP days; the administration, for providing for and supporting the Professional Development for faculty and staff to keep abreast of the current best practices in the field of gifted education; the PSL for the Mirman Global Village and for jointly creating the Intercultural Discussion Group (ICDG) alongside the administration. Similarly, the Board and I were commended for our leadership at this critical juncture in the history of the school, and for our role appropriate "enabling" of the campus' land expansion and the school's curricular development of ecological, athletic, and technologically articulated and tooled educational programs. This is the firm and reinforced foundation upon which we build into our 50th year and beyond.

According to contemporary 21st century educational pundits, the indicators of a quality school continue to be a physical environment that is safe, clean, and inspiring; facilities that support learning and development of diverse talents; highly qualified teachers and staff motivated to help students learn; a well implemented, broad, and rigorous curriculum relevant to all its students; strong leadership dedicated to inspiring teachers and students to achieve their best; an ability to provide opportunities that enable students who have different talents to pursue them; and ultimately a school that encourages and supports teacher innovation. Our continued sustainability as that institution depends upon your ongoing dedication to support Mirman School through Annual Giving and other philanthropic gifts chronicled in this report. For the enhanced quality of school life you make possible, the Board and I are ever thankful.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "John Thomas West III". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style.

John Thomas West III
